

COME GROW WITH US

SALVATION ARMY - 5501 MARKET ST. - PHILADELPHIA, PA

Join community volunteers and our West Philadelphia Neighbors for a fun day of gardening at the West Philadelphia Salvation Army Corps Community Center's new community garden at 5501 Market Street, Saturday August 8, 2009 from 9:00am – 1:00pm. Volunteers will be watering, weeding and harvesting in the garden while meeting other garden enthusiasts to exchange ideas, garden stories and maybe even some over-grown perennials! (Feel free to bring perennials or seeds to exchange with other gardeners.) This inter-generational garden project will provide fresh fruit and vegetables for residents served by the center and supplement food donations to community members. The garden project is another way The Salvation Army is doing more with less to help those in need.

The new community garden is a great way to get both children and adults involved in beautifying the neighborhood community while working with nature. We hope you will join us for this fun and active event.
